"TORCH MURDER" TRIAL BEGUN IN ROCKFORD TODAY

Accused Slayer Sits Apathetically As Her Case Starts

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Maintaining a stolid calm, Mrs. May Hanson, 38, charged with the "death by burning" of her husband, Earl, 42, sat in Judge Arthur E. Fisher's Circuit courtroom this morning and listened apathetically to questioning of venemans as first steps in the selection of a jury to hear her trial for murder got under way.

Seated near her were the daughter, June, 12, expected to be one of the chief witnesses during the trial; her mother, Mrs. Alice A. Mulder of Milwaukee; and her two sisters, Miss Florence Mulder, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Ralph Hanson of Rockford. The husband of the latter sister is a brother of the fire death victim.

In questioning of the first venemans, State's Attorney Robert E. Nash made no mention of the death penalty, and indications were that he would not demand it.

Night of Aug. 13
Hanson's body was found beside his flaming car in front of the home of his divorced wife, May, on the night of August 13. His body was a blazing pyre. He had just returned their daughter, June, who had been with him during the day, a Sunday, to her home.

Authorities set up the theory that gasoline had been tossed into the car and over him as he backed from the driveway, and a lighted match thrown after it. Mrs. Hanson has admitted ownership of a bowl of matches blackened by fire, and a box of matches discovered nearby.

When authorities first arrived at the scene her eyebrows and face were singed. She has denied any knowledge of how her divorced husband met his death but has admitted purchase of gasoline a short time before the fire.

Selection of the jury probably will require two days and the trial probably will not be concluded before Saturday.

FOUR RAILROAD MEN KILLED IN WESTERN CRASH

Gr. Northern Freight Train Runs Into a Rock Slide

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Four persons were killed and two were injured when a Great Northern freight train crashed into a rock slide at Milan, Wash., 24 miles north of here, late last night.

The dead:
W. J. Barrett, engineer.
William Kueper, fireman.
Leonard Hargrove, brakeman.
J. T. Towhey, brakeman.
The injured:
E. W. Horsall, conductor.
F. G. Cook, brakeman.
The dead and injured were all of Hilliard, a suburb of Spokane.

97 Cars in Train
The men killed were riding in the cab of the locomotive, pulling a train of 97 cars. With this weight behind them the locomotive and tender were derailed and toppled over on their sides, the front end of the locomotive resting in the Little Spokane river.

Bodies of the men were extricated with difficulty, it being necessary to pull them out of the cab with ropes.

The train was stopped on a slight curve and a half dozen cars in the middle of the train were derailed and six more directly behind those first to leave the track piled up on top of the forward box cars. There were cars two stories high at this point. The caboose was derailed, but 70 or more cars remained upright on the track.

The wreck is reported by officials to be one of the worst in years, and traffic may be tied up 48 hours.

Chicago Observes Marquette-Joliet Anniversary Today

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The 25th anniversary of the arrival at Chicago of Father Jacques Marquette and Louis Joliet was observed today.

Tall buildings have replaced the trees which Father Marquette and Joliet found along the river and a pylon marks the landing site of the famous missionaries.

Students of Loyola University and Mundelein College were named to place a wreath beside the pylon and addresses were planned by Rene Weiller, French Consul, and the Rev. Thomas A. Egan of Loyola University.

The city's birthday cake will be cut and pieces distributed to the crowd during the evening program at the city hall.

JNO. F. ENRIGHT DIED YESTERDAY: HEART FAILURE

Well Known Insurance Man Passed Away at Home

J. F. Enright, well known insurance representative of this city, suffered a serious heart attack at his home, Saturday afternoon and passed away quietly in his last sleep Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at his home, 711 East Fellows street. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 solemn high mass will be celebrated at St. Anne's Catholic church. The body will be sent to Canandaigua, N. Y. where interment will be made Thursday morning.

John F. Enright was born June 22, 1882 at Penn. N. Y. A few years later, with his parents, he moved to Canandaigua, and there spent all of his early life. He was a graduate of the Academy of Music at Rochester, N. Y., and also a student of the Boston Conservatory of Music.

In 1910 he came to Warren, Ill. as superintendent of the sheet metal factory. Here his mother died leaving him the sole survivor of his immediate family. In 1916 he entered the insurance field, where he was highly successful and in 1924 moved his offices to Dixon, where he continued as agency manager for the Bankers Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Iowa.

Following a severe illness of a few years ago, Mr. Enright retired to private life and found great pleasure in his beautiful home and attractive gardens. He was a member of Dixon Council, Knights of Columbus and of Dixon lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. Elks.

Mr. Enright was a man of most generous impulses. He was courteous, hospitable and sincere and will be missed by a host of friends.

Following the services Tuesday morning the body will be conveyed to his boyhood home to rest beside those of his parents, but the memory of loyal friendship and kind acts, will long be held by those who knew him in Dixon and vicinity.

Funeral services will be held at the church of the Sacred Heart in Joliet at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Rev. Fr. Krug officiating.

EXPECT UTAH TO HAND KNOCKOUT TO PROHIBITION

Finish Of National Dry Area To Come After Noon Tomorrow

BULLETIN 1:30 P. M.

Salt Lake City, Dec. 4.—(AP)—It appeared likely today that national prohibition repeal will not come until well along in the afternoon tomorrow—what with all the ceremonies arranged for Utah's formal ratification as the thirty-sixth state.

With Pennsylvania and Ohio acting earlier in the day, the Utah convention will meet in the House chamber of the state Capitol at 1 P. M. CST tomorrow to deliver the knockout blow to the 18th Amendment.

But final action on the ratification resolution will come only after an imposing array of formalities.

The program disclosed today made provision for appointment of committees, election of a set of convention officers and their induction, along with the delegates; introduction and adoption of various resolutions, and addresses by Governor Henry H. Blood, who will call the convention to order, and by Franklin Riter, chairman of the resolutions committee, who will present the ratification resolution. Provision has been made for a recess, to allow the committees on resolutions and credentials to prepare their reports.

Thus it appeared likely that the afternoon would be well spent before the roll call of the 21 delegates—elected November 7 and all pledged for repeal—could be completed, and the result of the vote announced by the chairman of the convention. Then, and not until then, will the prohibition amendment cease to be effective.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Anti-repeal delegates, one from each of the state's 46 counties, gathered here today in convention to record South Carolina as the first state formally to reject the repeal amendment.

North Carolina voted to retain the eighteenth amendment on the same day as South Carolina, but the electorate of the old north state also rejected a proposal to call a state convention.

Prohibition Will Receive Its Death Blow Here

Utah, long one of the most arid states in the Union, will deal the final blow to prohibition on Dec. 5, as the 36th state to ratify the twenty-first amendment. The historic action will be taken in the chamber of the House of Representatives in the capitol at Salt Lake City, the building shown above. At the left, inset, is M. H. Welling, secretary of state; at right, Gov. Henry H. Blood. Blood will act as temporary chairman, Welling will read the certificates of election and the repeal amendment.

JONES SAYS HE IS GUILTY; WILL DESERT HIS PALS

Member of Jack Klutas' Gang Will Become State Witness

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Joseph Augustus (Babe) Jones of St. Charles Ill., pleaded guilty before Judge Thomas J. Lynch in Criminal Court today to charges of kidnapping James Hackett, wealthy gambler of suburban Blue Island. Jones was indicted recently with Gale Swolley of Peoria, Ill., and Frank Souder of Benton, Ill.

Prosecutors announced Jones, who has told them many lurid stories of kidnapping and liquor running in Illinois and Iowa, would turn state's evidence against his co-defendants.

Hackett was twice kidnapped and paid ransom reported to total $11,500. He testified before the grand jury against Jones and the others.

Klutas Evades Arrest
"Handsome Jack" Klutas, Illinois gangster, has been named as leader of the kidnap band, but has not been apprehended. Authorities said he had undergone operations to blur his fingerprints and alter his features in order to evade arrest.

An alleged associate of Klutas was shot to death recently in Peoria by detectives who sought to question him about the missing man's whereabouts.

After Jones had pleaded guilty, the trial of Souder and Swolley was set for January 8 and Jones' (Continued on Page 2)

EDITORIAL

THE FIRST BIG STEP FORWARD

Tomorrow is an important day in Dixon! At 9 A. M. the City National Bank will open its doors as a new bank, transacting complete and unrestricted banking business. The United States government has placed its stamp of approval on the assets of the bank and its soundness and stability are beyond all question. Now, with the other fine bank, the Dixon National, this city has a banking service which will be the envy of many other cities and which cannot be excelled anywhere.

Dixon, in the early stages of the depression, sailed along very nicely as compared to many communities, but things began to happen in business and industrial circles which finally had the old home town sort of gasping for breath. When the J. I. Case plant moved away and the Brown Shoe Company slowed up and finally quit and the cement plant closed down and the finances of many people were crippled by the impounding of the deposits of one of the banks, and with 15 or 20 per cent of our citizens on welfare relief rolls and many hundreds of others unemployed and with the incomes of almost everyone else at low ebb, it took a real optimist to be very cheerful.

But the turn has come. Right today times in Dixon have "about faced" and we are traveling the road to prosperous, normal times. The Telegraph predicts that progress will be rapid and that the worst is over and will soon be far behind us.

The opening of the City National is only the first step, but it is a long one. Upwards of $800,000 in deposits will be made available to depositors in the bank and the channels of trade will be greatly stimulated by the circulation of new money. The officials of the bank are to be congratulated upon the finally successful culmination of their constant and exhaustive efforts to reopen the institution. All of Dixon and surrounding communities are also to be congratulated upon their good fortune in having the bank reopen under such auspicious conditions.

Business in Dixon will notice a rapid pickup from now on and we believe that the employment situation will be greatly improved here before very long.

And now, with a forward movement under way, is the psychological time for civic action calculated to help that forward movement gather speed. We have the advantage of momentum, optimism and hopeful feeling. If we in Dixon are wise enough to take full advantage of our opportunity the coming months can hold fine things in store for this community. If we can get cement dust blowing over our porches and smoke pouring out of our factory chimneys we will be sitting on top of the world once more.

LINDY UNABLE TO GET LOADED SHIP INTO AIR

Two Try Again Today for So. Atlantic Take Off

BULLETIN

Bathurst, Gambia, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The monoplane in which it was expected Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh would start their flight across the South Atlantic today was still in harbor, becalmed, as sunset approached.

Bathurst, Gambia, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh indicated early this afternoon that he intended to take off before night, presumably on a transatlantic flight to South America.

Mrs. Lindbergh assisted her husband as the flying Colonel spent the morning overhauling their big monoplane following their failure to leave the water last night. They made several futile attempts to take off by moonlight and twice under a broiling sun yesterday were balked in efforts to hop westward because of unfavorable winds and a too heavy load of fuel.

During the night they tried again, to no avail. Then they decided to await daylight once more, in the hope that conditions would be more to their liking.

Night falls in Gambia shortly after sunset at 6 P. M. local time (12:45 P. M. CST).

There are a little more than 3,000,000 miles of rural roads in the United States, and 320,000 miles of these are in state highway systems.

Legion Will Not Lower Its Flag to Communism Anywhere

Owosso, Mich., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Frank E. Samuel, National Adjutant of the American Legion, says that while the Legion will neither criticize nor hinder any government agency it will not "lower its flag to Communism" because the United States has recognized Russia.

Adjutant Samuel addressed a state conference of officers of Michigan Legion posts here Sunday.

"Our national convention gave us our orders," he said, "and no one can accuse us of politics if we state our principles in plain language."

ABOUT 300 MEN REGISTERED ON CWA 'ROLLMENT

Work Starts Today On Three Projects of City of Dixon

It was estimated today that about 300 unemployed men had been registered at the headquarters at the city hall. The process of registration is a slow one, there being a total of 56 questions to be answered by every applicant, and the council chamber at the city hall has been crowded with men since the opening of the registration headquarters. The majority of the applicants have been residents of Dixon and vicinity.

The first contingent of unemployed men from the registration headquarters, about 25 in number, started work this morning on three city projects. These included the beautifying of the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital property, the Ravine avenue parkway and the general cleaning up of the river bank on both sides of the river.

The county project which involves improvements of county and township highways in every township in the county, which was to have placed about 300 men at work this morning, was held up, but it was expected that the work would be started Tuesday morning.

Schools Ask Work
The board of education has filed two separate projects with the Civil Works Administration headquarters in Chicago. One of these provides for a general landscaping and macadamizing of the grounds of the various city school properties. The second provides for the cleaning, redecorating and in some instances, rewiring of some of the city school buildings. Both of these projects were forwarded to Chicago late last week and no word of their confirmation or rejection had been received late today.

To facilitate and speed up CWA work throughout the county, County Supr. of Highways Fred Leake is desirous of learning as quickly as possible how many 2-ton trucks are available for hire throughout the county. Truck owners who desire to rent vehicles should communicate with Mr. Leake at once.

Night flying is practically unknown in Europe due to the small number of lighted airways.

Directors of Both The Old and New Banks Complete Details

The banking rooms of the City National Bank in Dixon were the scene of great activity today as the members of the organization prepared for the formal opening of the institution as a full fledged bank tomorrow morning.

The boards of directors of both the old and new banks and all of the officials held meetings at the bank this morning at which the various necessary resolutions were offered and passed, whereby Conservator Clyde Lenox terminated his conservatorship and the bank was transferred over to the board of directors and the officials of the new bank. The officials are: Dr. Z. W. Moss, president; John L. Davies, vice president; and Clyde Lenox, cashier, and Vernon Tennant, assistant cashier. The new board of directors is composed of W. C. Durkes, John L. Davies, H. C. Warner, Z. W. Moss and Leonard Rorer.

While Dr. Moss is president of the bank, Mr. Davies will be the senior officer in active connection with the institution, as Dr. Moss will continue in his profession as dental surgeon. Mr. Durkes will devote a great deal of time to the affairs of the bank and will concentrate his efforts to the liquidation of the assets of the old bank so that the depositors in the old bank will realize the fullest value possible of their interests there. The three trustees of the assets of the old bank, Louis Pitcher, Leonard Rorer and Dement Schuler, serve in that capacity without pay, as does Mr. Durkes.

Financial Statement

A financial statement of the new bank appears elsewhere in this issue of The Evening Telegraph. The depositors and patrons of the bank and all of the people of the community, whose loyal support made possible the opening of the bank, will benefit by the release of the 55 per cent of the deposits of the old bank, which will be available to all depositors at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and of which they may withdraw all or any part of which they may re-deposit. Upwards of $800,000 will be thus released tomorrow morning.

The bank is opening under government instructions. The charter, which was a necessary formal incident to the opening, arrived at the bank from the Treasury Department in Washington this morning.

EXTRADITION OF FACTOR UPHELD BY HIGH COURT

Jake the Barber Lost Last Appeal To Evade Charges

Washington, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Extradition to England of John (Jake the Barber) Factor of Chicago for trial on a charge of participating in an $800,000 swindle, was approved today by the Supreme Court.

The court upheld the action of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals directing extradition.

Factor fought extradition on the ground that the offense charged against him of having received money knowing it was fraudulently obtained was not a crime under the treaty with Great Britain.

Since the extradition proceedings were begun Factor and his son claimed to have been kidnapped and held for ransom.

IT RAINED TODAY

THE rain was dripping all about, and yet my thought, dry-shod, ran out among the birches, slender-set. Along the pelted rivulet. It saw the blood-root blossom pale. The red-appeared moss and snuggled snail. The mushroom thrusting through the mold. The early cowslip's budded gold. A while it tarried there to bless Those living creatures' loveliness; Then under dripping bush and tree, My thought, dry-shod, returned to me.

—Margaret Ashmun.

Alice White And Sidney Bartlett Wed

Magdalena, Sonora, Mex., Dec. 4

—(AP)—Alice White, film actress, and Sidney Bartlett, writer, whose marriage here climaxed an off-and-on engagement of several years, were honeymooning today at the Mexican ranch of Antonio Prota, a friend.

The couple was married in the Magdalena town hall by Civil Judge Francisco Estrella Sunday and then were guests at a party attended by leading townspeople and Mayor Roberto Urias.

The names of Miss White and Bartlett, whose engagement was first announced by the actress in 1929, figured in a Los Angeles grand jury investigation several months ago of the attack by two robbers on John Warburton, British actor.

The robbers who were captured, were quoted by police as charging Bartlett hired them to disfigure Warburton after the latter allegedly slapped Miss White.

Miss White, though saying Warburton had "knocked her all over the street," denied any knowledge of the alleged attack by the two robbers and Bartlett refused to testify before the grand jury. The investigation was dropped.

CRANBERRIES TOP THE HOLIDAY FEAST

Make Ideal Dessert Served as Jelly in Tiny Molds With Diced Pineapple, Nuts and Whipped Cream

By NEA Service—

Cranberries are in season right now and they can be served in new and interesting ways on holiday menus.

Plain, old-fashioned cranberry sauce, made by stewing the berries with sugar and then allowing them to cool, is something that the home-maker usually plans to serve occasionally with turkey, chicken, duck and goose throughout the holiday season. Nothing quite takes the place of it.

However, cranberries needn't be confined to so simple a recipe. They make delicious salads and desserts. Prominent New York hotels are using them more and more in new ways with great success.

Cranberry jelly, in little individual molds, makes an admirable dessert for bridge luncheons and buffet suppers as well as big holiday dinners. Combined with diced pineapple and nuts, topped by whipped cream, it is about as pretty a dessert as you can serve.

Here's the way to make a very handsome and appetizing cranberry dessert:

Place five pounds of cranberries in boiling water and cook them until they are soft. Force them through a strainer and add two and one-half pounds of sugar and one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Put it all back on the fire, stirring constantly to prevent the sugar from sticking and let it come to the boiling point. Remove from the stove and pour into either one large or small individual molds which have been dipped in cold water to prevent the jelly from sticking.

Place a heap of diced pineapple in the center of a large platter and arrange the little dessert mold around it, garnishing the top of each one with whipped cream and a few pecans or walnuts. A couple of uncooked cranberries will be decorative on top of the pineapple.

Cowardice May Result from Ill Health

"Jimmy, aren't you ashamed of not fishing kitty out of the fountain when that bad boy threw her in? You had to run and call mother, and I just got her in time."

Jimmy said nothing. He merely shivered. Water in bulk always made him shiver. Even the bathtub could only have a very few inches of water in it when he took a bath.

Another time his mother said, "Why don't you get your baseball bat and learn to play ball? There's nothing to be afraid of—the ball won't hit you."

Jimmy, according to his parents, was a coward. He was afraid of water, afraid of a ball, afraid of a height, of a rough game with the boys, of almost everything.

Coward of Comparison

The worst of it was that right next door lived Harry a rough and tumble little fellow who was afraid of nothing on earth. He would climb to impossible places and then stand on his head. He was so tough he could eat nails, and so brave he would have gone farest at a lion if he had the chance.

Every day Jimmy was compared to his dauntless neighbor. And Harry had learned to scoff and call Jimmy "frailty cat" and now all the fellows called him that too.

He was very wretched and unhappy. He tried to fight his cowardice, but on the few occasions when he proved his worth, and screwed up his courage in some desperate attempt to belie his reputation, he always got sick afterward.

One day his father was playing golf with Dr. Smith, "Say, Doc," he said, "how do you cure a kid of the jitters? That boy of mine is the big disappointment of my life. He turns green with fear at the least little thing. I think his mother babied him too much, or else he was scared about things when he was a baby. He's been sick a lot and he had a hard time getting a start—would you remember? Do you s'pose it would help any if I took him to one of those psycho-what-do-you-call-'em chaps and get it all talked out of him?"

Health Secret of Courage

Dr. Smith put his score card in his pocket and lighted a cigaret. "Maybe," he said, "But do you know, after all Jimmy has had it would be a miracle, I think, if he had much physical courage. I'm beginning to agree with some of these new medical men who think that a good many of the virtues, including bravery, depend on healthy gland action. We have all sorts of deep-seated mysterious glands in our bodies and heads, that seem to be dictators of how we feel and how we act. Health, my dear man, good, strong, brute health is the secret of a lot of things."

"Don't ride your boy too hard. Don't call him a coward. He can't help it and it won't improve things any. If you build him up and go about this courage business from a different angle, I think you'll find him more normal later on. No use making him feel too bad about something he absolutely can't help. Give him a hand-up, encourage him. Tell him he's a swell fellow."

Somewhat Jimmy's dad felt ashamed. He had a lot of restitution to make.

THE TRAGEDY IN A LIFE OF VAIN REVOLT.

There is a pathetic note in the otherwise amusing announcement of beautiful young Nila Cram Cook that she is through with the life of abnegation she had led as a disciple of the Mahatma Gandhi, and that henceforth she will seek the freedom and gaiety of the world.

The discordant note rings out from the fear that Miss Cook will become just as disappointed, just as disillusioned, in the new life as she had become in the old.

This is no sad commentary on life in general. It is based, rather, upon what is known of the Cook temperament and personality, and the rebelliousness that characterized the Cook tradition.

The talented novelties and playwright George Cram Cook, died a broken-hearted and disillusioned man when he failed in his revolt against the "false" pleasures of the modern world.

Now his daughter, inheriting his emotional traits, would cast off the very mantle of despair that he had left her.

The tragic life of the "Great Soul" of India, the miseries of those millions of untouchables, brought about the same feeling of revolt which previously had caused her to turn from the ways into which she had been born.

Miss Cook's experience is worthy of serious consideration by the thousands of young men and women who today seem to see nothing but despair and frustration before them, in their struggle for the finer things of life.

They may cry out against the selfishness, the greed, and the materialism of the day. They even may simulate the experience of Miss Cook and devote themselves to a regimen of self-denial and protestation against the modern world.

But they will find themselves returning to the very life they abhor, and then they will discover that the true protest, the most effective weapon they have, is one of participation in this world to the end that it may become a better means of existence for all.

In avoiding this roundabout way of making themselves felt in this life our youth of today also will avoid the tragic disappointments to which Miss Cook seems to have foredoomed herself.

LADIES AND PRIZEFIGHTERS.

Society lifts an eyebrow as Mrs. Madeline Force Dick is married to Enzo Fiermonte, an Italian prizefighter. Mrs. Dick happens to be the widow of John Jacob Astor, who stepped aside as the Lusitania was sinking to permit his then youthful bride to take her place with other women and children in a lifeboat.

Discussion of the marriage makes much of the tragic background of Fiermonte's bride. To think, say the dowagers, that Madeline would do such a thing as marry a prizefighter, after Astor's noble act in permitting her to be saved, while he himself went to certain death!

But then Mrs. Madeline Force Dick is a woman, after all. Enzo Fiermonte, even though he be a prizefighter, is a man. It is the inalienable privilege of any woman to marry any man, society's eyebrow to the contrary notwithstanding.

The bird was put upon the ground. It promptly started bounding around. "Hey, grab it!" shouted wee Duncy. "I am afraid it will bounce from sight."

"The toy-land man has only one and we don't want to miss the fun of traveling to Santa Land." Wee Duncy cried. "All right!"

"I'm holding it right by the beak. Come on, you Tinymites, all sneak right up and squat upon the bird. I'll join you when you're set."

"That is right!" exclaimed the toy land man. "Get on as quickly as you can, and then the bird won't move until I tell it to, I'll bet."

In just a minute Dotty cried, "All right, we're ready for our ride hop in your plane, kind visitor, and lead the way."

"Of course we won't know what to do to make this strange bird follow you. You will have to give commands, and we just hope it will obey."

"Don't worry," said the man. "It will!"

"And then there came a sudden den thrill when he exclaimed, 'Come on, bird, and they all sailed into space.'

"Gee, hank on tight," wee Duncy said. "This makes me dizzy in the head. I must admit the toy land man is setting quite a pace."

The plane began to dip and dive and Goldy shouted, "Bakes alive, just what is this supposed to be, a funny little game?"

"The man is teasing us, no doubt. His plane is shooting all about and everything the plane does, this balloon bird does the same."

"Why, say, I don't mind this at all, as long as we don't take a fall," said Windy. "I have never had such fun, up in the air."

"And, too, the trip will end just grand because we are bound for Santa Land. If we keep sailing on like this, we'll very soon be there."

MENINGITIS

Nature protects the brain and the spinal cord by a variety of structures.

The nervous system is encased within a bony shell, and is supported both within and without by the cerebro-spinal fluid.

Between the skull and spinal column and the brain and the spinal cord are three membranes called the meninges. When these coverings become inflamed, the condition is called meningitis.

There are such conditions as simple acute meningitis, tuberculous meningitis, epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis and so on.

Meningitis may be associated with a number of acute infectious diseases, such as pneumonia, erysipelas, scarlet fever, measles and the like.

As a rule the patient is dizzy and suffers nausea and vomiting. The outstanding symptom in meningitis is headache which may become so distressing that the individual is unable to stand or move about. The vomiting of the meningitis sufferer is peculiar in that the ejection is forceful.

A very severe headache and vomiting associated with a clear tongue, strongly suggest the possibility of meningitis.

As the condition progresses, the individual becomes drowsy, and stuporous. There is usually stiffness of the body muscles, particularly in the region of the neck. There may be disturbances of vision, drooping or paralysis of the eyelids, and other disturbances in the muscular movements.

Meningitis is a very serious condition. It not only threatens the life of the individual, but even if he survives it exposes him to permanent crippling. Meningitis, therefore, calls for immediate and expert medical care.

Treatment somewhat depends upon the cause. In the epidemic form of cerebro-spinal meningitis we have an effective serum which if administered promptly and in large enough quantities, is an efficient cure.

Tomorrow—Safe Vaccination.

FRIENDLESS PEOPLE

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
"Can you not be my friend?" writes an old lady at the end of a long letter. "The world is beautiful, but I have found life a hard job with many heart aches. Now I am old and have no one to turn to."

It is amazing how many letters from friendless folk reach me. More forelorn people are walking up and down the streets of the world, looking and hoping for an outstretched hand, than any of us realize. Many go through life with out friends—those blessed people, who, when trouble falls upon us, hold us close to keep the wind away.

Among the poor and outcast, of course, this is a desperate fact. Wandering aimlessly about our cities, looking for shelter under arches, hiding away from the eyes of those who are happy and cared for, these benighted souls suffer untold agonies of mind. But they are not the only ones who are lonely wanderers upon earth.

Even among those in some degree of security there are many crying out for friendship. A famous poem tells of a man who became very rich. The richer he became the more he was separated from his fellow men. He built his big house on top of a hill overlooking the town, the envy of the whole community. At last, unable to bear it any longer, he blew out his brains, he was so friendless and alone.

It may be said that anyone who is without friends suffers by his own failing. Sometimes it is so. Some people are so shut in by shyness, so tongue-tied, so outlaid that they cannot make friends.

They cannot get out of themselves, or let others into their lives. But there are many genuine cases where, by no fault of their own, people are bereft of friends by time or death or tragedy.

Accepting the fact that some are friendless because of their own drawbacks, ought we not to find them out and give them some small measure of our own happiness? Let us give them more than pity, which does not feed the body and often hurts the soul. It is not always theirs to find God alongside of them, else they would not be lonely. There we can help, and by sharing friendship enrich our own hearts.

First Night Mail

Benjamin Franklin in 1764 inaugurated night mail in the colonies, this being the first time it had been used anywhere. It was first used between Boston and New York and New York and Philadelphia, the mails traveling by night as well as by day.

POETS' CORNER

AFTER THE NIGHT COMES THE MORNING

After the night comes the morning;
After the darkness comes light;
And after the storm comes the rainbow,
With all of its colors so bright.

After the pain comes our pleasure;
After the sorrow comes joy;
We all have our trials to suffer,
We all have those fears which annoy.

After the noise comes the silence;
After the storm comes the calm.
The bluster and curse of the battle
Is soothed by an infinite balm.

After the loss comes the profit;
After the labor comes rest;
And after a good life has vanished
There cometh that peace with the blessed.

PAPER PRINTED IN GRANDY MANY YEARS AGO FOUND

Rock River Register Of Dec. 9, 1842 is Of Much Interest

Amos Bosworth of this city, has a very interesting collection of papers, which are of great historic value, dealing with the early history of Grand Detour, which many years ago was a much larger settlement than Dixon. Among these is a copy of the Rock River Register, a four page weekly newspaper, bearing the date, December 9, 1842. The publishers were the firm of Knoble & Stephens.

While the news columns devoted very little space to news of the vicinity, they contained belated reports of world wide happenings. The advertising columns are the most interesting. In these is a notice issued by John Deere, inventor of the steel plow, who at that time conducted a factory in Grand Detour, which read as follows:

Notice—All persons indebted to the undersigned will save cost by making immediate payment. John Deere, Grand de Tour, Nov. 4th, 1842.

George L. Herrick, tin and copper smith; Dr. Wm. M. Bass, physician and surgeon; H. J. Hathaway, cigar manufactory; Cumins, House & Co., clothing; E. W. Evans, attorney and counsellor at law; Hanson O. Hyde, cooper; Edmund Wright, cabinet manufactory; Benjamin Simonds store; O. F. Palmer and O. Eddy, boot and shoe makers; E. W. Dutcher managing the Clinton House, where the table, bar and stabling service were featured.

In the collection, which was originally the property of the late Capt. Will Andrus, are many other papers of historical interest in the founding and early life of Grand Detour.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 3.

The Golden Text was, "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King" (Isaiah 43:15).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee" (Nehemiah 9:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle" (p. 275).

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TO BE THE CHAMPION TRAP SHOOTER

SHOOTING FROM SCRATCH, 25 yards behind the traps, Walter Beaver pulled out of an exciting tie to win the 34th Grand American—the first time it has been won by a limit contestant! He has been a steady smoker of Camels for years, and says: "I like their taste and mildness...they never jangle my nerves."

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES? If you smoke a lot...inside...outdoors...wherever you are...join the swing to Camels. You'll like those costlier tobaccos in Camels. You'll find them milder, better tasting, and they never get on your nerves.

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

WALTER BEAVER, holder of the coveted Grand American Handicap, says:

"Winning a trap-shooting championship is partly a matter of luck, partly the result of practice and partly healthy nerves. I'm a steady smoker. People kid me about it at the tournaments. They say I never have a cigarette out of my mouth. During all these years I've been smoking Camels, not only because I like their taste and their mildness, but also because they never jangle my nerves."

It's no fun to feel that your nerves are ragged—and to wonder why. Check up on your eating...your sleep...your cigarettes. Get a fresh slant on your smoking. Switch to Camels. Your nerves and your taste will tell you that Camels are a more likable cigarette—and that they don't upset your nerves.

DIXON RETAIL AUTO DEALERS RECEIVE CODE

Benefits Are Explained
By President National Auto Assn.

Dixon automobile dealers have received copies of the retail automobile dealers code, which became effective, Dec. 1 and concerning which F. W. A. Vesper, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association and National Administrator, submits the following explanation and benefits:

The Retail Automobile Dealers Code, approved and signed by President Roosevelt, brings advantages of incalculable benefit to the purchaser and owner of an automobile. It now makes obligatory upon all dealers operating under the Blue Eagle, the adoption of trade policies and practices, which have long been recognized by leading dealers and the public as desirable, but which uncontrollable competitive forces have heretofore rendered inactive.

The code gives absolute and complete protection to the car buyer and owner on these points:

Actual Facts About The Car.—There can be no misrepresentation of the automobile either as to specifications, performance, or value, in advertisements, sales solicitations or otherwise by the dealer, his salesmen or employees.

Prices and Terms.—The code absolutely prevents any manipulation of price, and provides that the price of any new car shall be the manufacturers' list price. Additional charges added to f. o. b. cost must be covered by detailed specifications. Transportation charges shall be the average cost of transportation from the factory to dealer figured on all shipments received by dealer during a 60-day period as shown by dealers' sworn statement. Exceptions to this are obsolete models and open cars which have a seasonable market only.

Installment Plan Sales.—The Code provides that no dealer shall charge a higher rate than the highest rate or a lower rate than the lowest rate charged by regularly established finance companies operating in the same district. Thus exorbitant charges on installment plan sales are made impossible.

Delivery of Car.—The Code absolutely protects the car buyer against any secret tampering with the car or use of the car, or adjustment of the speedometer before delivery. The purpose and effect of this provision is to assure to the customer full knowledge of the condition of the car and the mileage covered by the vehicle offered for sale.

Used Car Allowances and Sales.—The code establishes a fair, sound and simple method of determining trading allowances. The allowance to be given for a car offered as part payment will be established by the average of prices recently paid, in definitely established trading areas. Thus the trade allowance will be the market price or current value of the vehicle as determined by the natural law of supply and demand, and thus both trade allowance and sale price for used cars are automatically controlled by the natural forces of the local market.

Under the Retail Automobile Dealers Code the public, the dealer and his employees are assured a fair deal in every detail. There is no need for sharp dealing in purchase, sale or service. The dealer is more permanently and solidly established.

SPORTS

DYING FOOTBALL SEASON WAS ONE OF MANY UPSETS

Defeat Of Army, Duke Saturday Climaxed Unusual Campaign

New York, Dec. 4 —(AP)—Football uniforms were packed away among the mothballs today as followers of the great fall sport settled down to review perhaps the most spectacular campaign on record.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been a season marked by so many upsets, climaxed Saturday by the unexpected defeat of both Army and Duke.

When Saturday's results had been written into the record books the Princeton Tigers, alone among major eleven, could boast an undefeated and untied season, and on that basis, at least, could claim consideration for the mythical national championship Southern California had held for two years.

As a matter of fact it appears likely that any attempt to award the title to any one team, whether it be Princeton, Michigan, Minnesota, Stanford or any other outstanding eleven would meet with strenuous protests from other sources. Southern California reigned unchallenged in 1931 and 1932 but the Trojans' defeat by Stanford several weeks ago not only relieved them of the crown but left the fight so wide open that it may take another full season to fill the vacancy to everyone's satisfaction.

Only Three Repeaters
A study of the campaign reveals that only three sectional champions were able to retain outright laurels of 1932. Michigan, although tied and outplayed by Minnesota, again captured the Big Ten championship; Nebraska, for the third successive year, was crowned Big Six titleholder, and Oklahoma A. & M. repeated in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Stanford and Oregon shared the Pacific coast throne occupied last year by Southern California, while Utah, after winning the Rocky Mountain title outright for five years in a row, was forced this season to share it with Denver and the Colorado Aggies.

The split-up of the old Southern Conference left two champions standing where only one stood before. Alabama in the Southeastern loop and Duke in the Southern. Last year, before thirteen of the 23 members had broken loose to form the Southeastern Conference, Auburn and Tennessee generally were recognized as Southern Conference champions.

One Title In Air
The Southwest Conference situation still is hanging in the air, awaiting a conference decision as to whether Arkansas the actual winner, should forfeit all games in which the Razorbacks used an ineligible tackle. If Arkansas is penalized, then Texas Christian, the undisputed champion a year ago, will share the crown with Baylor's surprising Bears.

Perhaps the greatest surprises of the year were furnished by Princeton and Notre Dame. The Tigers, kicked around badly in the 1929-30-31 seasons, had shown some improvement last year, their first under the coaching of H. O. Fritz. Crisler, but few had expected such power and speed as they showed in running through nine successive games this season, climaxed by Saturday's 27-2 rout of Yale. His present eleven built mostly of sophomores and material available from this year's undefeated freshman squad, Crisler and Princeton apparently must be reckoned as formidable eastern powers for the next four years at least.

Notre Dame gave football two terrific jolts. The first came when the Ramblers scored only 19 points in their first eight games or which they lost five, won two and tied one. The second came on Saturday when they staged a rousing fourth-period rally at the Yankee Stadium to use out Army's previously unbeaten eleven, 13-12.

Both Southern California and Purdue saw the end of long winning streaks that had been started in 1931. Stanford smashed the Trojan's record on Nov. 11 after Southern California had been undefeated since St. Mary's. Gaels turned the trick in the opening game of the 1931 campaign. A week later, Purdue, which hadn't been beaten since the Wisconsin game

Hansen is the manager, with Padgett, Bovey, Fordham, Potts, Bremer and Guthrie to complete the team. All of the strength have been changed to the lineup and balance the lineup, which should result in providing some interesting games during the winter months.

The schedule, which opens Wednesday evening, calls for two games each Wednesday evening. A small admission fee will be charged to cover the expense of operation of the league and it is expected that a large gallery of fans will be on hand Wednesday evening to witness the opening double bill.

VINCE DUNDEE'S TITLE AT STAKE FRIDAY EVENING

His Bout With Brouillard Tops Week's Ring Events

New York, Dec. —(AP)—Vince Dundee, who won his world's middleweight title at Boston, has elected to make his first defense of it at the same spot.

The Newark, N. J. 160-pounder, recent conqueror of Lou Brouillard at the Hub, will defend his championship against Andy Callahan of Lawrence, Mass., in the Boston Garden Friday night. Dundee will be favored but Boston has been a "Jinx" town for champions for several years.

Meanwhile one of Dundee's most dangerous rivals, Teddy Yaroze of Pittsburgh will meet Paul Pirrone of Cleveland in a preliminary of an all-star show at Cleveland tonight. The windup will bring together Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king, and Cecil Payne of Louisville. Kid Chocolate, whom Canzoneri knocked out in two rounds ten days ago, will face Frankie Wallace of Cleveland, in another match on the same card.

The featherweight championship will not be at stake. All three bouts are at 10 rounds.

Freddie Miller of Cincinnati, National Boxing Association's featherweight king, will encounter Paul Dazzo of Chicago in a non-title ten rounder at Chicago Wednesday night while Maxey Rosenbloom, light heavyweight king, engages Wilson Dunn of Oklahoma City in an overtime affair at Fort Worth.

The Iron Cross
The Prussian order of Iron Cross was instituted on March 10, 1813, by Frederick William III, to be conferred for distinguished services in war. The decoration consists of a Maltese cross of iron, edged with silver, and is worn around the neck or at the buttonhole.

Chicago, Dec. 4 —(AP)—Ralph Greenleaf, the New York cue master will start his campaign for another world pocket billiards championship tonight against Charles Seaback of Astoria, N. Y.

Greenleaf has held the title since 1919 with few interruptions, but this time will be opposed by nine of the country's best. Three former champions, Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland; Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y. and Bennie Allen of Kansas City, are in the field and are expected to make strong bids.

The rest of the list includes George Kelly of Philadelphia, the national champion; James Caras, Wilmington, Del., runnerup to Greenleaf in 1932; Andrew Ponzi and William Mosconi of Philadelphia and Pasquale Natale of Chicago. The schedule calls for 45 games to be played in 18 days.

Along with the title will go $1,600 of the $6,500 in prize money, 15 per cent of the gate receipts and a diamond medal. Only one match will be played tonight, but the schedule lists two each afternoon, except Sundays, and one at night. Two matches will be played each Sunday night.

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)
